Travel the World In this folklore-inspired camp, young campers will travel the world through stories, art, and imagination with teaching artist Katy Bruce. Each day explores animal tales, symbols, and traditions from diverse cultures through hands-on projects like mask making, shadow boxes, and clay creature creations, along with creative movement and shared storytelling. Campers will bring folklore to life as they create, play, and invent stories of their own. Teaching Artist: Katy Bruce	The Creatures of Philbrook What kind of creature might live at Philbrook? In this imaginative camp, young artists will bring a friendly museum creature to life through sketching, building, and decorating a large collaborative sculpture. Guided by the wonderfully magical Sierra Kramer, campers will explore storytelling, texture, and teamwork in a joyful and enchanting week of creation. Teaching Artist: Sierra Kramer	Upcycled Art Renegades Turn everyday materials into extraordinary creations in this imaginative camp with Rainbow the Recycler! Campers will transform cardboard, paper, fabric scraps, and other “found” materials into colorful sculptures, wearable art, and magical objects. Through hands-on exploration, kids will discover that creativity has no limits—and that even recycled materials can become treasures. Teaching Artist: Lauren “Rainbow” Lunsford	Art from the Backyard Campers will explore Philbrook’s gardens, foraging plants and items like fallen leaves and found insect wings to create magical cyanotype prints. They’ll notice tiny details—the veins of a leaf or other delicate textures in nature—while learning how to preserve them as art. Led by teaching artist Kaci Burr, this camp celebrates curiosity, wonder, and hands-on creativity. Teaching Artist: Kaci Burr	Road Trip Adventures Buckle up for a week of imagination and creativity in this Route 66-inspired camp! Campers will build and decorate their own cardboard cars, create roadside attractions, and map out whimsical stops along their journey. Through storytelling and handmade souvenirs like miniature license plates and postcards, campers will bring their road trip to life and share their own playful adventures of the open road. Teaching Artist: Sierra Kramer	Print It Up! Nature, color, and imagination come together in this playful printmaking camp for our youngest campers. Campers will experiment with colors and textures through simple printmaking and stamping techniques. Inspired by Philbrook art and gardens, children will also create glowing cyanotype prints to take home. Teaching Artist: Amber Marie Deen

Under the Big Top Step right up to a week of movement, imagination, and circus-style play! Campers will explore expressive gestures, character-building, and physical storytelling inspired by clowns, performers, and life under the big top. The week ends with a lighthearted showcase celebrating creativity, confidence, and collaboration. Teaching Artist: Lauren “Rainbow” Lunsford	In Full Bloom Step into a flower-filled world of art and imagination! Campers will wander Philbrook’s gardens, meet a horticulturist, forage and arrange blooms, and turn petals and plants into drawings, paintings, and collages. Led by teaching artist Harper Kitchens, the week ends with a whimsical performance inspired by the magic of flowers. Teaching Artist: Harper Kitchens	Buggin’ Out Step into a garden buzzing with tiny wonders! Campers will explore the outdoors, observe real bugs, and create their own real or imaginary insects using polymer clay, wearable wings and antennas, and butterfly wands. Using bug specimens and garden finds to make cyanotypes—and crafting bee seed balls to support pollinators—teaching artist Amber Deen leads a week full of imagination, discovery, and joyful, bug-filled fun. Teaching Artist: Amber Marie Deen	Tiny Treasures What secrets could fit inside a jar? In this enchanting camp, campers will craft custom lids from clay and fill their very own jars with tiny treasures they make and find. Each day brings new discoveries—miniature clay creations, shiny acorns, colorful leaves, and small wonders made in the studio. By week’s end, every jar will be brimming with treasures and imagination, a little piece of Philbrook magic to take home. Teaching Artist: Katy Bruce	Art Explorers Paint, Draw, Sculpt, Oh My! In this camp, campers will become art explorers as they dive into several different artmaking techniques—from painting and collage to sculpture and more. Letting their creativity and curiosity lead the way, campers will create multimedia works of art inspired by their gallery favorites. No Camera Required Explore the magic of photography without a camera in this camp inspired by the striking photography of artist Gordon Parks! Guided by teaching artist Katie Romano, campers will experiment with various alternative photography processes using light, shadow, and object-based image-making. Campers will layer their alt-photo images with collage and text to create accordion-style books that share their own visual stories. Teaching Artist: Katie Romano	Big Dreams, Bigger Art Step into a world where imagination grows as big as the art! Campers will transform cardboard and mixed materials into bold, playful creations, weaving stories along the way and collaborating on a magical group mural. Led by Elizabeth Henley, founder of Black Moon Artist Collective, this camp celebrates creativity, collaboration, and art without limits. Teaching Artist: Elizabeth Henley	Up, Up, and Away with Paper Mâché Drift into a world of paper mâché and imagination, creating hot air balloons that seem to float through the air and whimsical creatures that come to life. While their balloons dry, campers will explore the stories and cultures behind balloon flight while creating handmade journals to capture thoughts and sketches throughout the week. Teaching Artist: Jiji Coul	Wooly Wonders: Art & Nature In this multimedia experience, campers will gather leaves, flowers, and other natural treasures and transform them into a string of colorful bunting flags or felted pieces to take home. Through dyeing, cyanotype printing, eco-printing, painting, and felting, each artist will explore their own creativity through nature and hands-on discovery. Teaching Artist: Taylor Painter-Wolfe	Cut, Paste, Create Mix, match, and make! Campers will explore collage and simple poetry techniques, turning paper, texture, pictures, and words into self-expressive creations. Playful, hands-on, and full of color, this camp is all about experimenting and expressing ideas in fun, unexpected ways. Teaching Artist: Harper Kitchens	Nature's Paintbox Let's head out into Philbrook's backyard! In this session, campers will explore a garden that holds every color of the rainbow, wandering among flowers, soil, water, and sky while mixing paints, experimenting with natural pigments, and capturing their discoveries in color journals. Guided by teaching artist Liz Dueck, this workshop turns careful observation and imagination into hands-on lessons where nature becomes the ultimate teacher of color. Teaching Artist: Liz Dueck

Camp Create-A-Lot Summer camp is calling! This throwback camp celebrates the magic of classic, hands-on crafts for a fun-filled camp with Parent Trap vibes. Think weaving, folding, beading, and collaborative artmaking; the classics are classic for a reason. Campers will leave camp with a collection of meaningful, handmade keepsakes and memories. Teaching Artist: Katy Bruce	Tiny Gardens in Clay What if you could shrink down and wander through the Philbrook Gardens? In this storybook-style camp with ceramic artist Maryalice Carroll, campers will sculpt tiny mushrooms, curious bugs, quiet ponds, and winding paths using clay and simple hand-building techniques. Each small creation becomes part of a shared garden world—full of imagination and delightful discoveries just waiting to be found. Teaching Artist: Maryalice Carroll	Monoprint Lab In this inventive printmaking camp, campers will forage Philbrook gardens for leaves, petals, and unexpected textures to use as printing tools. Using plexiglass and water-soluble inks, young artists will experiment with layering, pressure, and surprise, learning how one image can become many possibilities. Teaching Artist: Zadith Rodriguez	The Secret Life of Tiny Worlds Even the tiniest corners are bursting with life! Campers will wander through bugs, moss, seed pods, and fungi to imagine and create miniature habitats, whimsical creatures, and tiny sculptures. Guided by teaching artist Liz Dueck, this workshop encourages curiosity, creativity, and the joy of discovering that big adventures can live in the smallest places. Teaching Artist: Liz Dueck	Route 66 Mini Adventures Bring the quirks of Route 66 to tabletop size in this playful diorama camp with teaching artist Sierra Kramer! Campers will build tiny roadside stops—diners, snack stands, friendly monsters, and other whimsical attractions—using cardboard, clay, and mixed materials. Each miniature creation will spark stories, imagination, and collaboration, giving campers a hands-on, quirky road trip adventure to take home. Teaching Artist: Sierra Kramer	Printastic! Explore two sides of the printmaking world with teaching artist Amber Marie Deen. Campers will learn how to create classic linoleum prints, in addition to more whimsical ways of printmaking using recycled materials, fruits and vegetables, found objects, and natural textures. Campers will learn safe techniques while discovering how to create unique patterns and designs on paper and cloth. Teaching Artist: Amber Marie Deen

Portraits in Bloom What makes a portrait more than just a face? In this creative camp led by Elizabeth Henley, founder of Black Moon Artist Collective, campers will explore portrait styles from traditional to expressive character art. Inspired by these art styles and the beautiful Philbrook gardens, campers will experiment with color, pattern, and composition to create portraits that capture each camper's individuality. Teaching Artist: Beth Henley	Look Through the Lens Capture your world through light, shadow, and story in this hands-on photography camp inspired by photographer Gordon Parks! Guided by teaching artist Terryce Boxley, campers will build pinhole cameras and use portraiture and environmental storytelling to take photos of people, places, and objects that share something about themselves or their space. By the end of the week, campers will create a gallery of images that tell their unique stories. Teaching Artist: Terryce Boxley	Stories We Weave Step into a world of color, texture, and imagination! Campers will dye their own wool and cotton fibers, twist them into skeins, and weave them into playful loom creations. Along the way, they will discover the magic in recycled materials—transforming paper, plastic, and unexpected treasures into shimmering patterns—while exploring the galleries for inspiration and weaving stories from what they see and imagine. Teaching Artist: Amber Marie Deen	See it, Sketch it Slow down, look closely, and draw what you see in this observation-based art camp with multidisciplinary teaching artist Katy Bruce. Campers will sketch in the gardens and galleries, explore still life and movement, and experiment with pencils, charcoal, and pastels while investigating line, texture, and perspective. Teaching Artist: Katy Bruce	Clay Creations In this hands-on clay camp, campers will explore the magic of shaping and building with clay to create meaningful, functional artworks. Guided by teaching artist Amie Francis, students will use hand-building techniques to craft treasure jars inspired by garden walks, themed clay vessels, and wearable or hangable clay pieces filled with personal expression. This week celebrates imagination, craftsmanship, and the joy of turning clay into objects meant to be used, worn, and treasured. Teaching Artist: Amie Francis	Cities of the Future What makes a great city? In this hands-on city planning camp, campers will explore how neighborhoods, buildings, parks, and people come together to shape urban life. Led by teaching artist Jamie Pierson, students will dream up, design, and build their own cities while learning about collaboration, problem-solving, and creative thinking—because the best cities start with bold ideas. Pop It! Art of the Everyday What makes a favorite snack or toy so lovable...and can it be art? In this pop-powered camp, artists will explore Andy Warhol's life and ideas while turning everyday favorites into bold, colorful artworks. Led by Scraps Design founder Jamie Pierson, campers will experiment with observation, repetition, and collaboration to discover new ways of seeing the ordinary as extraordinary. Teaching Artist: Jamie Pierson	Mixed-Media Makers Explore the endless possibilities of paper, print, and beads in this hands-on mixed-media camp! Guided by teaching artist Khara Orr, campers will experiment with collage, printmaking, and paper bead-making to create colorful, layered artworks. By the end of the week, each camper will showcase a series of artwork that combines texture and pattern with their own personal expression. Teaching Artist: Khara Orr	Art Sparks! Improv Adventures In this lively improv camp with teaching artist Stephanie Trotman, campers will bring paintings, sculptures, and installations at Philbrook to life through movement, voice, and playful props. Each camper will design and create their own character mask or puppet inspired by their favorite work of art, using it to act out stories and scenes both in camp and at home. Through imagination, collaboration, and hands-on creation, campers will explore the joy of turning inspiration into performance. Teaching Artist: Stephanie Trotman	Once Upon a City Imagine the possibilities in this worldbuilding camp! Campers will explore Tulsa's skyline and skylines from around the world, then imagine cities all their own. Using the galleries and grounds for inspiration, campers will design and build detailed dioramas with cardboard and a variety of materials. Teaching Artist: Kaci Burr	Tiny Worlds & Hidden Habitats Even the tiniest corners are bursting with life! Inspired by the natural world, campers will create miniature habitats or fairy gardens for imagined creatures living among us. Found objects, air-dry clay, paint, and more are the tools for this camp where big adventures live in the smallest places. Teaching Artist: Liz Dueck	Woolly Wonders: Nature & Art Color, texture, and nature come alive in the Philbrook gardens as students collect leaves, flowers, and other natural treasures to transform into fabric and fiber creations. CAMP PHILBROOK

CAMP PHILBROOK: KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

To help you prepare for your Camp Philbrook experience, we have assembled a guide with what you need to know before you arrive on your first day of camp. Additional information regarding drop-off, pick-up, and other information will be emailed to all camp families one week prior to their enrolled camp session(s).

REGISTRATION & TICKETING

- All ticket sales are final and non-refundable. We may be able to exchange your ticket for another camp of comparable price. Please contact the Nature Education Coordinator at (918)748-5373 or at twillis@philbrook.org. (Please note that we are unable to prorate camp fees on a daily basis.)
- Each camper must have a complete registration form as part of the registration process. Please email Toni Willis at twillis@philbrook.org or call (918)748-5373 if any information changes or needs to be updated before you arrive.
- Once registered, you'll receive an email from Philbrook confirming your online registration. A follow-up email with important reminders and arrival information will be sent about one week before each camp session to all registrants.
- When you register, please list all allergies or disability-related accommodations for your camper in your registration form. Please be aware that we cannot guarantee a 100% nut-free zone. Once registered, please contact twillis@philbrook.org if you would like to further discuss your child's allergies or accommodation requests.

MAINTAINING A SAFE AND HEALTHY ENVIRONMENT

- Studios will be disinfected between AM & PM sessions.
- Campers will not be allowed to attend if they are ill. Children who become ill during the camp day will be removed from the studio and isolated. Parents/caregivers will be contacted to pick up their child from camp.
- All camp workshops will spend ample time outdoors as weather allows for snack time, artmaking time, and exploring out in the gardens.
- Camp staff monitor weather each day for ozone alerts, extreme heat, and other inclement weather. When the weather is unsafe for prolonged outdoor activity, campers will remain indoors or keep their outside time brief. Camp staff will ensure all campers take breaks and stay hydrated.
- Lunchtime will be held outdoors in our beautiful gardens. In case of inclement or extreme temperature, campers will eat indoors.
- Camp Philbrook is a peanut-free camp. Please do not send your child to camp with peanut products.
- All caregivers will be required to show their photo identification at pick up each day.

CAMP PHILBROOK

WHAT TO EXPECT AT CAMP PHILBROOK

- Campers will spend time indoors in the galleries and studios and outdoors in our gardens. Campers will experiment and create with a wide range of art materials to express their artistic style while meeting new friends along the way.
- Many camps occur outside. Please arrive at camp prepared for adventure, wearing closed-toe shoes, sunscreen, bug spray (if desired), and dressing for the weather.
- Morning camp sessions last from 9 a.m.–12 p.m. and afternoon sessions last from 1 p.m.–4 p.m.
- We have a max capacity of 17 campers per camp for ages 7–14. Camps for ages 5 & 6 are capped at 15.
- Camps take place under the care of skilled camp instructors and knowledgeable program assistants both trained in camp protocols. Each camp includes guided time in the galleries as well as hands on artmaking in the studio.
- A small snack (Goldfish or pretzels) will be provided during the morning and afternoon classes. However, please send a non-perishable snack with your child if you wish to bring your own.

WHAT TO SEND WITH YOUR CAMPER

- Have your camper wear comfortable, breathable clothes that they can get messy in. Smocks or aprons are provided but do not cover their entire outfit. Keep in mind that campers will be working with both washable and permanent materials.
- We will go outdoors each day, so please apply sunscreen and bug spray before arriving, and be sure your camper is wearing appropriate shoes for outdoor walking. (Please note no aerosol sprays)
- Please send a water bottle labeled with your camper's name each day. Each studio will be equipped with a station to refill their bottles throughout the day.
- Campers enrolled in a full day of camp will eat lunch from noon–1 p.m. All full day campers should bring a sack lunch that is clearly labeled with their name. Camp Philbrook is a peanut-free camp. Please note that we are unable to provide access to a refrigerator or microwave. Please call Toni Willis at (918) 748-5373 with any questions or concerns.

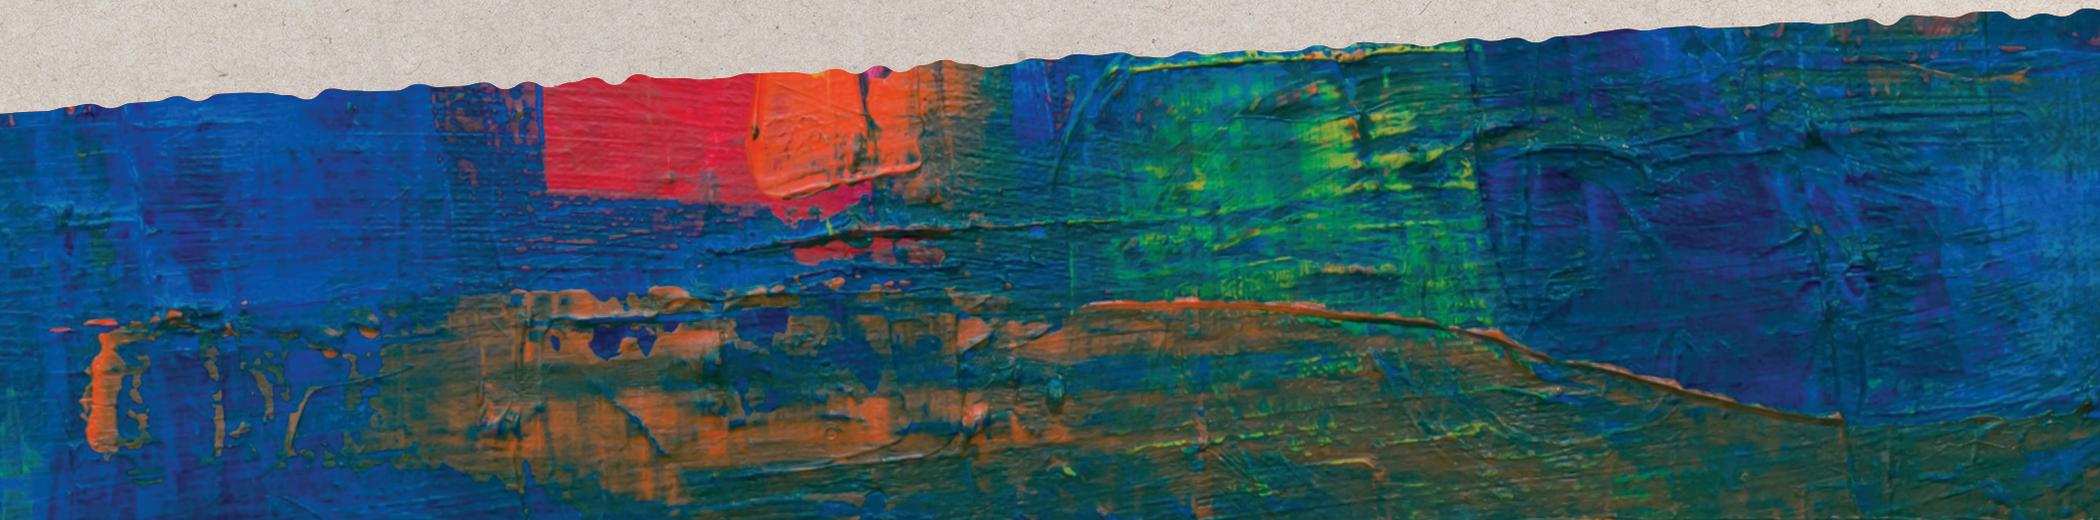

REMINDERS AND GUIDELINES

- All personal items such as water bottles, clothing and lunches should be labeled with the student's first and last name. No toys or games are permitted. We ask that students refrain from using cell phones during camp hours.
- To ensure an optimal experience for all, please note that your child(ren) must have experience in a classroom setting prior to the start of camps, must be potty-trained, AND must be the appropriate age for the camps they are registered for. Campers who are too young for the camp they are signed up for may be asked not to return until they are old enough to participate.
- If you have questions or concerns regarding your child's age and the camp they are signed up for, please do not hesitate to reach out via email.
- Campers must be able to independently use the toilet. The child must consistently use the toilet independently, including being able to recognize the need to go, communicate their needs, pull their pants up and down, and go to the bathroom without significant accident, essentially managing their toileting needs without relying on diapers or pull ups.
- Please note that this is a drop-off camp. Our camps promote independent learning and socialization opportunities for your child. If you feel your child is unable to remain in camp without you, it may be best to wait a year before you send them to camp. Parents/guardians are welcome to enjoy our museum facilities when we are open, but when the museum is closed to the public, we cannot accommodate additional visitors within the museum.

CAMP PHILBROOK

EXPECTATIONS

- 1. We expect all campers and staff to always act respectfully when they are at camp and to behave in a kind, responsible way.
- 2. Campers should:
 - a.) Arrive at camp ready to listen, participate, and have fun.
 - b.) Take responsibility for their actions.
 - c.) Respect themselves, other campers, their teachers, camp equipment, and their environment.
 - d.) Understand that honesty will be the basis for all relationships and interactions.
- 3. Campers are encouraged to talk to any camp staff member if they are uncomfortable with any experiences or need assistance while at camp.
- 4. If a camper is unable to follow these guidelines, staff will work closely with the camper and their caregiver/s to resolve the situation. As a last resort, if the camp environment is deemed not to be a good fit, a camper may be asked to withdraw. Camp Philbrook is unable to issue partial or full refunds.
